

Academic Improvement Scholarship

HUO TIANQING

Associate of Science in Creative and Interactive Media Production

Tianqing made good use of her youthful energy to improve in her studies, moving her results from a "mostly B" to a "mostly A" status and earned the Academic Improvement Scholarship. During the summer of 2018, she joined two internships in her native town of Dalian that were relevant to her studies. One was in the new media department of Dalian Radio and Television Station where she produced promotional videos and articles for national companies. With an eye on a career in media production, Tianqing took up another internship in the tourism culture department of the Dalian ASSEN Brand Communication for a month, doing some branding for travel agencies.
